Barry Manilow's

- The Musical

The story follows aspiring songwriter, Stephen, as he composes what he hopes will become a hit musical.

His imagination takes him back to the 1940's as he creates a story surrounding Lola Lamar - an ambitious young singer who arrives in New York City from Oklahoma hoping to become a star. She lands a position at the famous Copacabana nightclub, "The hottest club north of Havana", and strives to become a 'Copa Girl' dancer with the help of the bartender, Tony Starr.

A tale of old-fashioned love and jealousy in the entangled lives of Lola and Tony unfolds amidst dazzling costumes, fantastic live band and sensational choreography.
